	On 3 November visited Mr. Griffith,	23/1
	Registrar, School of Foreign Service, Georgetown University.
	Purpose of the visit was to view the new academic building and its classroom facilities. There was nothing really new or startling observed in this visit with respect to classroom equipment. The only innovation that we observed was that chalkboards exist in pastel colors of green, blue, and beige, the latter two being new shades of which we were unaware. Each classroom was decorated in pastel colors to harmonize with the color of the chalkboard; i.e., the green chalkboard room had green pastel paint in the front and beige on the other three sides. Each classroom was equipped with a nat and coat rack of an aluminum rail with individual hooks installed along the back wall of each classroom. Ordinary cork tack boards are used sparingly along the sides of the classrooms.

No magnetic boards were in use at all. Projection screens consisted of permanently installed pull-down type. The auditorium seats approximately 400 people with modernistic stack (wood and aluminum tube) chairs, along with a few standard folding chairs.
